

THE Research
Universities' Council
OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

Blair Littler is the Vice President of The Research Universities' Council of British Columbia (RUCBC) and the Executive Director of the University Public Sector Employers' Association (UPSEA). Blair joined the organization in May of 2002, following a 13 year career in the Provincial Government in areas responsible for education, advanced education, economic development and science and technology. Prior to working for the Provincial government, Blair worked in commercial banking with the CIBC.

RUCBC works with and on behalf of its members (UBC, UVic, SFU, UNBC, RRU and TRU) to improve the quality, accessibility and coordination of university education in British Columbia.

The University Public Sector Employers' Association (UPSEA) is one of seven public sector employer associations who are tasked in the Public Sector Employers Act "to ensure coordination of human resource and labour relations policies and practices among public sector employers, and to improve communication and coordination between public sector employers and representatives of public sector employees."

Blair holds a Bachelor of Arts degree (Economics) from the University of Victoria and a Master's of Business Administration (Finance) degree from Dalhousie University.
