

Robin Ciceri is the President of The Research Universities' Council of British Columbia. Robin joined the Council in 2010 after a career in the BC government where she held a number of leadership positions including Deputy Minister of Advanced Education and Labour Market Development and CEO of the Public Sector Employers' Council. Prior to this, Robin was Deputy Minister of Human Resources and Deputy Minister of Small Business and Revenue. Her experience also includes senior positions in intergovernmental relations, economic development, and health.

Robin currently serves on the Boards of the Michael Smith Foundation for Health Research, the BC Academic Health Sciences Network, the BC Council for International Education and LifeSciences British Columbia. She was formerly on the boards of the BC Innovation Council, the Immigrant Employment Council of BC and the Commonwealth of Learning. Robin also serves on the Presidents' Group providing advice to the Minister of Social Development and Innovation. Robin holds a Bachelor of Arts degree, a Professional Certificate in Secondary Education, and a Master's of Public Administration.